

Hit Me Again

A preacher with a reputation for being long winded and rambling was speaking at a church one day. A person at the back of the church grow so exasperated with the preacher's boring delivery that he took a hammer and threw it as hard as he could at the speaker. Unfortunately, the hammer fell short and hit the head of a lady who was sitting on the front row. The blow from the hammer knocked her unconscious and the stewards in the meeting tried to bring her round. In the meantime, the speaker just droned on and on. Gradually the lady regained consciousness and as she did so said "Hit me again, hit me again I can still hear him!"

Friends I hope not to bore you this evening and I should be very grateful if you would refrain from throwing hammers.
